BENEFITS OF JOINING

- You can be heard and your views considered.
- You will help to shape decisions affecting you, your family and your community.
- You will become a part of a party which determines the policy of Labor governments.
- You will have the right to stand for selection as a Labor candidate for parliament.
- You will increase your knowledge of issues and politics and develop new skills.
- You will meet like-minded people and expand your circle of friends.
- You are able to join any branch in your electorate and have a direct vote in the preselection of candidates.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

The Tasmanian Branch's democratic and open procedures make it easier for members to be involved and make their voices heard by:

- going along to branch meetings and taking part in discussions on issues of public policy and influence the policies of the Labor Party;
- becoming active on policy committees and developing Party policies at both State and Federal levels;
- seeking election as delegates to the annual State Conference which sets policy and debates issues raised by branches and unions;
- attending Party functions and meeting other Party members and ALP parliamentary representatives;
- actively participating in election campaigns and other activities;
- having a direct say in the preselection of Labor candidates;
- volunteering skills to Labor House.
